

2011-2012 School Enrichment Programs

HealthBarn USA is the leader in proven hands-on, healthy-lifestyle education for children and families and is located at Abma’s Farm, Wyckoff, NJ. The unique curricula are designed to reflect the needs of children and their families and are developed by the HealthBarn USA team in collaboration with Rutgers Cooperative Extension. The programs are overseen by the HealthBarn USA esteemed advisory board, which is compromised of some of the country’s leading professionals in food, nutrition and health.

Our team includes HealthBarn USA educators who have master’s degrees and are dietitians and/or teachers as well as nutrition assistants from Columbia University, Montclair State University, St. Elizabeth’s College, Rutgers College and UMDNJ.

The HealthBarn USA core curricula is hands-on and is the ultimate farm-to-health experience for children as they learn about living a healthy-lifestyle by growing, cooking and eating fruits and vegetables, being active, eating breakfast, getting a good night sleep and participating in family meals. It also meets NJ standard curricula requirements (please inquire about specifics).
